How does Foundation work?

- ResoluteAI aggregates scientific information from hundreds of publishers and, using machine learning, applies consistent, structured metadata to all this disparate, unstructured data.

- Users can then access this information through our advanced search tools that use semantic expansion, conceptual attribute search, and several scientific ontologies.

- Search results can be filtered through an advanced, modern search interface and can then be visualized, analyzed, and exported.

Why Foundation?

- ResoluteAI search tools dramatically accelerate the research and analysis process.

- The growing collection of scientific datasets help uncover valuable connections between disparate domains and previously overlooked insights.

- Robust, downloadable analytics facilitate the sharing of results.

- Alert capability delivers new information on topics of interest.

- Make every employee a genius with precise insights and answers in a single location
